SEH'S ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

BY SEHAA

EDITORS' NOTES

Dear readers,

We are back with the publication of SEHAA's 3rd newsletter!

"SEHAA aims to foster meaningful and long-lasting relationships among the Tenby SEH community."

We strongly believe that the bonds created within this network will enable the Tenbyian community to catalyse each other's growth, and achieve greater ambitions together. SEHAA seeks to continue strengthening engagement among the Tenby SEH alumni while growing our reach. In doing so, we look to set in motion an era of growth, laying down the foundations for greater things to come.

After 9 months setting up SEHAA, we had the honor to be invited by Mr. Martin, the school principal of Tenby SEH to deliver a pitching presentation in the Monthly SEA Learning Meeting with ISP Southeast Asia Principals on 28 March 2022!

In this meeting, looking to the immediate future we have introduced SEHAA as an organization and mentioned some important initiatives in which engage and add value to our associates. We are delighted about that because as a small startup association which we can support ourselves will always be a mere fragment of the whole.

SEHAA newsletter becomes a platform that bridges us together, as a Tenby Community. Enjoy!

Dana Lai & Xin Yi

WELCOME!

SEHAA SWIMS AT SEA

When you are a freshly formed association, every achievement, goal and milestone reached, was always one to celebrate. But with such achievements come the nerves and the pressure to bring your best to the table.

When Mr. Martin and ISP invited SEHAA to pitch at the next meeting, all we knew was nerves and pressure. This opportunity was priceless, - leaving us no room for anything less than our A-Game. For a second, we were stunned. It was merely a few months ago that we felt proud enough, - having had the chance to hold our first physical meeting. And now, we're officiating ourselves to the entire ISP across Southeast Asia? Where did all the time go! But SEHAA never backs down, so neither did we.

SEHAA is now known across ISP
Southeast Asia (SEA)!

READY, SET, GO!

Held on the 28th March, two of our committee members; our very own president Shawn Tan Yong Sern and Communications Director Dana Lai Wei-Yn were sent to represent the team in sharing to ISP Tenby SEHAA's background, current activities and future plans for the alumni association. With sweaty palms and trembling voices, we exclaimed our greetings and didn't look back. Before we knew it, it was over! Better yet, we did not mess up and the heads of ISP loved it! The presentation was then followed by a brief QnA session for the leaders and associates to relay to us their burning questions to us. Thank God for Shawn, who answered them with much professionalism, calmness and accuracy, like the lawyer he was.

Much to our dismay, our advisor Ms. Hana Shohaili was unable to make it. Nonetheless, much contribution was made by her as prior to the meeting, slides for the pitching session needed to be prepared, which she worked extremely hard on perfecting. Not to mention, she coordinated the team and made sure to prepare both Shawn and Dana as much as she could. And for that, SEHAA is forever grateful!

Both Shawn Tan and Dana Lai were awarded with a certificate of recognition and gift cards by Tenby Setia EcoHill.

Today, a veil has been lifted of SEHAA. No longer are we the same association hiding behind our big dreams. We have achieved a lot in such a short time and with this, we now how capable we truly are when we work as a team, and strive big!

SEHAA would like to take this opportunity to Mr. Martin Shelly and ISP for opening a new door for us to grow and build a foundation for the next generation of alumni to succeed and flourish.

Before we go, here's what our president and presenter Shawn Tan had to say about that eventful day!

Dana and I had the privilege of pitching the inception of SEHAA to ISP. Both of us were delighted to meet Campus Principals from different Tenby Schools across Southeast Asia as well as distinguished fellows of the ISP. We have demonstrated our vision, mission, challenges and our future plans ahead for SEHAA to continue growing within the community. Personally, it was an honour to hear various views and thoughts coming from a diversified background of principals and experts, and with my team's continued progression can enable the growth of SEHAA with the reunification of the alumni of Tenby SEH.

Once again, Hip Hip Hooray for SEHAA!

STORY OF OUR FIRST MATHS
TEACHER

MDM. CHUA

Honored to be able to teach this batch of first graduates in Mathematics. I had 15 students in my class.

Although it has been few years passed, their faces, voices and characters are still fresh in my memory.

THANK YOU

for activating curiosity, knowledge, and new visions into our lives.

Without your guidance, life could not have been this blissful.

Thank you so much!

The year 2019 was an eventful and joyful year. It was the year where Tenby SEH had produced the first batch of graduates with pride!

I'm honored to be able to teach this batch of first graduates in Mathematics. I had 15 students in my class. Although it has been few years passed, their faces, voices and characters are still fresh in my memory.

Thiam Hung, a very hardworking student who had constantly sought for improvement, a very self-motivated young chap who tirelessly seized every moment to brush up his Mathematical skill, and who was never too shy to approach me for guidance. I was impressed with his enthusiasm for betterment.

Shawn, one of the brilliant and all rounded student. No doubt he excelled in his study, but his was also one of the true leaders who had actively promoted MUN among the students so much that he had shaped and developed the club to its state this day.

Ivy, a student trained and skilled in rhythmic gymnastics, who always impressed everyone with her talented performance on stage in various school events.

Hurin and Dana were another two athletes in my class who were both champions in Sports Day.

Eunice, a beautiful young lady who always dressed up elegantly in school and stylishly during events.

Nigel absented from my class frequently, for good reasons though. He was a Triathlete, (I am wishing he still is) participated in many competitions and brought glories to the school. He was a student who was able to balance between sports and studies.

Let's not forget my many other students, including Joyce, Hanisah, Celian, Jeffery, Dylan, Visnu, Karishma, Alyaa and Chai Fuu. Many stories I have about them, , - remarkable and memorable students they are. I have many stories of them, but let's keep it for next time.

The graduates of 2019 had not just played out their role as a good student, but they had also shown their many other characteristics - leaders, athletes, gymnast, stylist, intellects, etc, which completed their school life in Tenby SEH with perfection.

“They may have taken their curtain call three years ago, but all 15 of them still remain imprinted in my heart and memory.”

the good old days

THANKYOU

MAY '22 ISSUE

As we announce the curtain call for our third issue of newsletter, we proudly proclaim that these time setting up SEHAA has been a hit because of all your enthusiasm and confidence in us.

The SEHAA committee is grateful to each and everyone who had been there since day one, and those who joined us along this fruitful journey.

As we know the highest appreciation is not to utter words but to live by them. Thus, we vow that the coming initiatives will also hit a home run!

We bid adieu now, but with a warm hope of returning in our next newsletter, BIGGER and BETTER!

Signing off,

Dana Lai & Xin Yi
